

Naylor Drainage believes that Health & Safety is an integral part of our business and must be considered in all that we do.

We are committed to the health, safety and wellbeing of:

- All employees - we are responsible for them ending their working day in the condition in which they started it
- Third parties affected by our operations

Our Goals

We are committed to:

- Creating a safe and healthy working environment for all our employees
- The health and wellbeing of each member of staff and third parties affected by our operations

We strive towards ZERO accidents and ZERO occupational illness. We encourage all accidents/incidents to be reported, investigated and appropriate action instigated to avoid a recurrence.

Our Responsibilities

We ensure as far as reasonably practicable that:

- All risks associated with workplace hazards and occupational health are assessed; we put actions in place to prevent, reduce and control these
- We consult with employees: safety committee meetings and an open door policy encourage input and suggestions
- All activities are appropriately and sufficiently supervised
- Suitable training is in place and current to build our employees' competency
- We achieve compliance and beyond with all legal requirements of current health & safety legislation, guidance and approved Codes of Practice

Our People

All play their part in:

- implementing our policy;
- Developing a culture of openness in which concerns can be raised and potential improvements discussed and actioned
- Ensuring all accidents, incidents and near misses are reported to help us put measures in place to avoid a recurrence
